TRACIE POSEHN, MS, LPC-INTERN
Professional Disclosure Statement

Qualifications: Tracie Posehn, MS is a Licensed Professional Counselor Intern (under the supervision of Dr. Kay Trotter PhD), in the state of Texas.

Nature of Counseling: My chosen framework for counseling is Existential therapy as I value personal responsibility and knowledge of self to help find meaning in life. Existential therapy is a form of psychotherapy that emphasizes the ability of individuals to fulfill their potential if provided a supportive environment, with each choice made by an individual being reflected in self perception and the treatment of others. In practice, therapy will be a process of discovering and exploring your authentic values and the meaningfulness attributed to those values, while acknowledging the anxiety associated with being true to self. I am looking forward to providing a safe and nurturing environment to help you reach your goals. Please know that I am happy to thoughtfully answer questions you may have about therapy and/or the counseling process.

Informed Consent

Emergency/Crisis: Please know that we do not provide a 24-hour crisis counseling service. Should you experience an emergency necessitating immediate mental health attention, immediately call 9-1-1 or go to the nearest emergency room for assistance.

Counseling Relationship: During the time we work together, we will meet weekly for approximately 50-minutes per session (see play therapy section for exclusions to this time). Although our session may be very intimate psychologically, we have a professional relationship rather than a social one. Please do not ask me to relate to you in any way other than the professional context of our counseling sessions. You will best be served if our sessions concentrate exclusively on you (adult counseling situations) or your child's concerns (parent consultations for child or adolescent counseling).

Effects of Counseling: At any time, you may initiate a discussion of possible positive or negative effects of entering, not entering, continuing, or discounting counseling. While benefits are expected from counseling, specific results are not guaranteed. Counseling is a process of personal exploration and may lead to major changes in your life perspectives and decisions. These changes may affect significant relationships, your job, and/or your understanding of yourself. Some of these life changes could be temporarily distressing. The exact nature of these changes cannot be predicted. Together we will work to achieve the best possible results for you.

Clients Rights: Some clients need only a few counseling sessions to achieve their goals; others may require months or even years of counseling (please see play therapy section for further information). As a client, you are in complete control and may end our counseling relationship at any time though it is requested that you participate in a termination session. You also have the right to refuse or discuss modification of any of my counseling techniques or suggestions that you believe might be harmful.

If a divorce or a separation of parents has occurred, a current copy of the relevant court documents is required to begin services. If joint custody exists, the parent not bringing the child will also be invitation to participate in their child's counseling.

I assure you that my counseling services will be rendered in a professional manner consistent with the current ethical practices promulgated by the Ethical Codes of the Texas State Boards of Examiners of Licensed Professional Counselors and the HIPAA security and privacy rules. If at any time for any reason you are dissatisfied with my services, please let me know so that existing issues can be worked through. If I am not available to resolve your concerns, you may report your complaints to the Texas State Board of Examiners of Licensed Professional Counselors at 800-942-55440.

Referrals: Should you and/or I believe that a referral is needed; I will provide some alternatives, including programs and/or people who may be available to assist you. You will be responsible for contacting and evaluating those referrals and/or alternatives.

Fees: In return for a fee of $75.00 per 50-minute session (adversarial marriage counseling is $125.00) I agree to provide counseling services for you. The fee for each session will be due prior to the commencement of each session. The rate for all subsequent therapy services such as: attending parent/teacher conferences, ARD meetings, classroom observations, interactions with insurance providers, phone calls over 5 minutes, etc. will be billed at $75.00 per hour in 15-minute increments. All returned checks will incur a $25.00 return-check fee.

Cancellation: In the event that you will not be able to keep an appointment, please give notification within 24 hours in advance. If no or less than 24-hour notification is made, a regular session fee will be billed to you. If you do, at any time, intend to discontinue counseling, please inform me as soon as possible so that other clients can be serviced.

Records and Confidentiality: All of our communications become part of the clinical record. Records are the property of Dr. Kay Sudekum Trotter PLLC. Adult client records are disposed of six years after the file is closed. Minor client records are disposed of six years after the client's 18th birthday. Most of our communication is confidential, but the following limitations and exceptions do exist, if: a) you are a danger to yourself or someone else; b) you disclose sexual contact with a mental health professional; c) I am ordered by a court to disclose information; d) You direct me to release your records; e) I am otherwise required by law to disclose information; and f) there is a reason to believe that abuse or neglect of a child, elderly or disabled person has occurred or is likely to occur.

If records are subpoenaed, this does not indicate an automatic release of records and we may choose to seek a court order quashing the subpoena or providing protection should disclosure be deemed not in the client's best interest. To further protect your confidentiality, if I see you in public, I will only acknowledge you if you approach me first.

In the case of marriage or family counseling, I will keep confidential (within limits cited above) anything you disclose to me without your family member's knowledge. However, I encourage open communication between family members, and I reserve the right to terminate our counseling relationship if I judge the secret to be detrimental to the therapeutic progress (i.e., please see the play therapy section for specific confidentiality concerns regarding children in play therapy and parent consultation).

Should you request a copy of your counseling records, please be aware that a $25.00 record preparation fee will be incurred and a "Release of Records" form must be signed. An overall counseling summary, in lieu of records, will be provided free of charge upon request.

Court: I do not agree to serve as an expert witness or to provide testimonial services for you and you agree not to cause me to be used in this way. Should you, your attorney, your spouses attorney, or ex-spouses attorney subpoena me or your client file as a factual case witness or involve me in court-related proceedings, you agree to pay $150.00 for every hour of my time involved including case preparation, phone calls with attorneys, travel and witness time, ect. You further agree to pay a retainer fee of $2,000.00 at the time a subpoena is served to be applied toward these charges. If a subpoena is issued for me it will be turned over to our attorney and I will consult with that attorney as necessary. A bill will be rendered to you for immediate payment when a subpoena is issued. Please let me know before establishing a counseling relationship if you are attending counseling for court or court-related purposes/motivations.

Child Counseling/Play Therapy Logistics: For play therapy, sometimes it may be necessary to end the session early depending upon the following circumstances: the condition or cleanliness of the playroom, the child's ability to leave when the session is over, a situation where play therapy could no longer continue (e.g., child gets sick, child breaks several toys, child chooses to leave and not return, etc.), and the need for a parent consultation. Because the session may need to end early at times, please be sure to remain in the waiting room for most of the session. If you leave the waiting area please let me know that you are leaving. Children in the playroom are not asked to clean the room following the session. The reason for this is as follows: If play is a child's language and toys are the child's words; having a child clean up the play room following the session would be analogous to asking the child to clean up his/her emotional world. It would be similar to having an adult take back everything he/she said at the end of the counseling session. This is a unique stipulation to play therapy—please know I am not advocating this action for other circumstances—only play therapy.

When the child greets you in the waiting room following the counseling session, it is best not to ask several questions, such as "Did you have fun?" While playing is a natural, pleasurable activity for the child, children in play therapy are involved in playing out problems and emotional struggle and, therefore, at times "playing" may not be so enjoyable. Furthermore, when asked what the child did in play therapy, the child will typically respond, "I played". This would be similar to asking an adult in counseling what he or she did in the session - "We talked".

Before your child attends play therapy, please take him/her to the bathroom. Play therapy can often be very emotionally freeing, causing the child sometimes to have to use the bathroom during therapy, it is helpful if the child goes to the restroom before the session begins. Also, if your child is coming from school and is hungry, please give him/her a snack before therapy starts. Only in rare circumstances will food be provided for a child in play therapy. In such a situation, this will be discussed with the caregiver and added to the treatment plan. Please know that the playroom has a variety of media that can be messy (e.g., easel paints, water-color paints, Play-Doh, clay, water, sand, etc.). Please dress your child in clothes that can tolerate mess or possible stains should the child spill paint on him/her. Also, if your child is allergic to any substance that falls into this realm, it is your responsibility to let the play therapist know so that appropriate modifications can be made for your child.

I will meet with you to give feedback on your child periodically. While the feedback will discuss overall play themes for your child, discussion on several specific play behaviors will not be discussed to protect the child's confidentiality. However, most certainly at times, it will be necessary to discuss specific play behaviors and what this may mean for your child. To better facilitate the play therapy process, I will ask that you complete a "Weekly Update Report" for your child, which address updates, concerns, or questions. You can download this form on-line and complete it before coming to session or paper copies are available at the office for you to complete. The "Weekly Update Report" needs to be completed for every session to address updates.

COOPERATION OF CLIENT: Client shall keep the Counselor advised of Client's whereabouts at all times, and provide the Counselor with any changes of address, phone number or business affiliation during the time period which the Counselor's services are required. Client shall comply with all reasonable requests of the Counselor in connection with therapeutic treatment. The Counselor may, set boundaries including forms of client interactions and communication including ceasing to provide services to the Client for any reason, including without limitation: refusal of Client to comply with treatment recommendations, Counselor or staff is

HIPPA Notice of Privacy Practices

This notice describes how medical information about you may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information. Please review it carefully. This notice of Privacy Practices describes how we may use and disclose your protected health information (PHI) to carry out treatment, payment or health care operations (TPO) and for other purposes that are permitted or required by law. It also describes your rights to access and control your protected health information. "Protected health information" is information about you, including demographic information, that may identify you and that is related to your past, present, or future physical or mental health or condition and related health care services.

Uses and Disclosures of Protected Health Information

Your protected health information may be used and disclosed by your therapist, our office staff and others outside of our office that are involved in your care and treatment for the purpose of providing health care services to you, to pay your health care bills, to support the operation of the therapist's practice as necessary, and any other use required by law.

Treatment: We will use and disclose your protected health information as necessary to provide, coordinate, or manage your health care and any related services. This includes the coordination of management of your health care with a third party. For example, we would disclose your protected health information, as necessary, to a home health agency that provides care to you; or your protected health information may be provided to a physician to whom you have referred to insure that the physician has the necessary information to diagnose or treat you.

Payment: Your protected health information will be used, as needed, to obtain payment for your health care services. For example, obtaining approval for a hospital stay or a higher level of treatment may require that your relevant protected health information be disclosed to the health plan to obtain approval for admission.

Healthcare Operations: We may use or disclose, as needed, your protected health information to support the business activities of your therapist's practice. These activities include, but are not limited to, quality assessment activities, employee review activities, training of therapists associated with this practice, licensing, marketing and fund raising activities, and conducting or arranging for other business activities. For example, we may disclose your protected health information to graduate students who see clients at our office. In addition, we may call you by name in the waiting room when the therapist is ready to see you. We may use or disclose your protected health information, as necessary, to contact you to remind you of your appointment. We may use or disclose your protected health information in the following situations without your authorization: communicable diseases, abuse or neglect, food and drug administration requirements, legal proceedings, law enforcement, coroners, and if you present a threat to yourself or to others.

Other Permitted and Required Uses and Disclosures will be made only with your consent, authorization and opportunity to object unless required by law. You may revoke this authorization at any time, in writing, except to the extent that your therapist or the therapist's practice has taken an action in reliance on the use or disclosure indicated in the authorization.
